What Financial Services is Mozo authorised to provide under its financial services licence?

Under the Corporations Act 2001 and National Consumer Credit Protection Act 2009, an Australian Financial Services Licence (“AFSL”) and Australian Credit Licence (“ACL”) is required to be authorised to provide advice on certain financial and credit products. Mozo has obtained an AFSL and ACL so that we can offer you advice on these financial products.

Note that the advice provided by Mozo is “general advice” only. It does not constitute “personal advice”, as it does not take into account one or more of your financial objectives, circumstances or needs. We are obliged to warn you that our general advice provided to you does not take account of your objectives, financial situation or needs. Therefore, we recommend that you ensure that you obtain advice from a licensed professional regarding the suitability for your own circumstances, of utilising our products and services.

As part of Mozo's ACL Mozo makes available factual information that is sourced from credit providers. If Mozo refers you to a credit provider or provider of credit assistance you will be dealing directly with them and not Mozo.

Specifically, the authorisation under Mozo’s AFSL is as follows:

(iv) securities;

- (i) providing a credit service where the licensee is not or will not be:
 - (A) where the service relates to a credit contract or proposed credit contract - the credit provider under the contract; or
 - (B) where the service relates to a consumer lease or proposed consumer lease - the lessor; and/or
 - (ii) performing the obligations or exercising the rights of a credit provider in relation to a credit contract or proposed credit contract under which the licensee is not or will not be the credit provider; and/or
